Quality Improvement and Accreditation System Quality Trends Report

For the period 1 January 2007 to 30 June 2007

The purpose of this Quality Trends Report is to identify key areas within the Quality Improvement and Accreditation System (QIAS) that long day care centres are performing well in and those which contribute to centres receiving a Not Accredited status. The Quality Areas and Principles are detailed in the QIAS Quality Practices Guide (1st edition, 2005) available for purchase from the National Childcare Accreditation Council (NCAC). Where references are made to numbered indicators, these are listed in the QIAS Validation Report (3rd edition, 2005).

Quality Trends Reports are conducted twice annually by NCAC, in January and July each year, for each of the Child Care Quality Assurance systems. The first Quality Trends Report against the QIAS Quality Practices Guide is publicly available on the NCAC website (www.ncac.gov.au) as follows:

- QIAS Quality Trends Report (Quality Practices Guide 2005)
(1 July 2006 – 31 December 2006)

QIAS Quality Trends Report

As at 1 July 2007, 5,326 long day care centres were registered with NCAC to participate in the QIAS and 93.4% of centres that have completed the 5 steps of Child Care Quality Assurance are Accredited. This is a significant achievement and indicates that long day care centres are performing at a high standard.

1,127 long day care centres received Accreditation Decisions between 1 January 2007 and 30 June 2007. Of these services, 78.5% have achieved High Quality in all 7 Quality Areas*.

The Principles for which centres most often achieve a High Quality standard are:

1.2	Staff guide each child's behaviour in a positive way	86%
1.3	Staff initiate and maintain respectful communication with each child	88%
1.4	Staff respect each child's background and abilities	90%
1.6	Staff communicate effectively to promote respect and professional teamwork	91%
2.1	Staff and families communicate effectively to exchange information about each child and the centre	86%
2.3	The centre has an orientation process for children and families	90%

6.5	Staff support each child's needs for rest, sleep and comfort	25%
6.6	The centre acts to control the spread of infectious diseases and maintains records of immunisations	16%

*Please note: Due to a period of transition from the QIAS Source Book to the QIAS Quality Practices Guide between 1 July 2006 and 31 December 2007, this figure has been calculated for the period 1 January 2007 to 30 June 2007 only.

Quality Area 1: Staff Relationships with Children and Peers

The development of the whole child is closely linked to the quality of the relationships experienced with others. Consistently respectful and sensitive communication and interactions between staff and children help to secure and promote children's social and emotional wellbeing, which in turn supports the development of other skills and abilities. (Extract from QIAS Quality Practices Guide, 2005, page 7).

Quality Trends:

Most long day care centres achieved High Quality in this Quality Area. However, a significant proportion of centres did not meet the Accreditation standards of Principle 1.5.

Quality Area 1 has six Principles:

Principle 1.6	High Quality	Good Quality	Satisfactory	Unsatisfactory
%	91	8	0	1

Principle 1.6 was rarely rated Unsatisfactory.

Quality Area 2: Partnerships with Families

Staff and families share the common goal of positive outcomes for children. Partnerships between staff and families are characterised by active communication and consultation that is fostered by staff and management. Each partnership is unique and will be dependent upon the specific needs, interests and communication styles of the participants.

The relationship between the child's family and staff is crucial to the child's wellbeing, development and progress. Children benefit most when this is a trusting and mutually supportive partnership. (Extract from QIAS Quality Practices Guide, 2005, page 21).

Quality Trends:

Most long day care centres achieved High Quality in this Quality Area.

Quality Area 2 has three Principles:

Principle 2.1: Staff and families communicate effectively to exchange information about each child and the centre

Principle 2.3	High Quality	Good Quality	Satisfactory	Unsatisfactory
%	90	8	0	2

Principle 2.3 was rarely rated Unsatisfactory.

Quality Area 3: Programming and Evaluation

The centre's philosophy provides an important framework within which programming decisions are made. Effective programming also takes into account feedback and observations from all the centre's stakeholders, most importantly, from the children themselves.

The program comprises all aspects of children's experiences at the centre. It needs to be flexible and adaptable, at short notice, to meet individual and group interests, talents and abilities. The program should be stimulating and involving, with a variety of opportunities available for children to pursue their current interests and develop new ones. (Extract from QIAS Quality Practices Guide, 2005, page 29).

Quality Trends:

Most long day care centres achieved Good to High Quality in this Quality Area. However, a significant proportion of centres did not meet the Accreditation standards of Principle 3.2.

Principle 3.3: The program assists each child to be a successful learner

Principle 3.3	High Quality	Good Quality	Satisfactory	Unsatisfactory
%	83	10	0	7

In Principle 3.3 the indicators that most often resulted in Unsatisfactory ratings were:

- Indicator 3.3.1 Written programming and evaluation is undertaken for all groups and each child
- Indicator 3.3.8 Written programming for all groups and for individuals is continuous, ongoing and influenced by program evaluation

Quality Area 4: Children's Experiences and Learning

Children are fascinated with the physical world and they want to explore it, make sense of it and have some control over it. Time to play, explore ideas, interact with others and make connections with the environment is an important element of early childhood programs. As children explore and experiment with language, relationships, ideas, equipment and materials they learn about themselves and the world. Such a program requires the active participation of staff and management in providing a rich environment whereby children have choices and a role in decision making. (Extract from QIAS Quality Practices Guide, 2005, page 37).

Most long day care centres achieved Good to High Quality in this Quality Area.

Quality Area 5: Protective Care and Safety

Management and staff share a responsibility to keep up to date with the current research and practices recommended by recognised health and safety authorities. Also, centres are subject to workplace health and safety legislation that has implications for children, staff and anyone else who enters the premises.

Clear policies and procedures relating to child protection and child safety are in the best interest of children, management, staff and families. Staff also require continuing professional development on child protection and child safety. It is important that staff know where to access current information from recognised authorities on child safety practices. (Extract from QIAS Quality Practices Guide, 2005, page 51).

This should be complemented by a focus on the child's emotional wellbeing and on providing developmentally appropriate support for each child's growing confidence and independence.

Staff should engage in ongoing professional development and access current information from recognised authorities on children's daily nutritional requirements, on food handling and on hygiene practices. (Extract from QIAS Practices Guide, 2005, page 63).

- Indicator 6.6.10 The centre follows a written procedure for advising the relevant authority of any occurrence of a notifiable disease at the centre

Quality Area 7: Managing to Support Quality

It is the role of centre management and staff to establish effective and ethical management policies and procedures. Centre policies and procedures must be informed by relevant legislative requirements, current 'best practice' in management and also reflect an awareness of community needs and issues.

Comprehensive written policies and procedures provide clear guidance to staff and families in relation to management issues. Involvement of key stakeholders including families, staff, management and children, in policy review and development fosters an atmosphere of trust and teamwork.

An essential element of quality centre management is ensuring that clear and consistent procedures for the maintenance and confidential management of family, child and staff records are implemented. Decision making, grievance and complaints handling policies and procedures are transparent and clearly define accountability. (Extract from QIAS Quality Practices Guide, 2005, page 77).

Quality Trends:

Most long day care centres achieved Good to High Quality in this Quality Area. However, a significant proportion of centres did not meet the Accreditation standards of Principle 7.1.

Quality Area 7 has four Principles:

Comparative Quality Trends Analysis

The National Childcare Accreditation Council (NCAC) has conducted two QIAS Quality Trends Reports against the standards outlined in the Quality Practices Guide (1st edition, 2005) as follows:

- QIAS Quality Trends Report (1 July 2006 – 31 December 2006)
- QIAS Quality Trends Report (1 January 2007 – 30 June 2007)

These Reports demonstrate a number of quality trends in the performance of long day care centres against the standards of quality care.

Notable trends in the data include:

- For the period 1 January 2007 – 30 June 2007, the lowest percentage of High Quality ratings for any Principle was 67%, indicating the high level of achievement by the majority of long day care centres across Australia.
- High Quality ratings increased in this reporting period across 27 of the 33 Principles by an average 2.4 percentage points. Some of these gains can be attributed to an average decrease of 2.4 percentage points in Good Quality ratings across 23 of the 33 Principles.
- Unsatisfactory ratings remained relatively stable with fluctuations of a maximum 2 percentage points across all Principles.
- Across several Quality Areas, a significant proportion of centres received Unsatisfactory ratings in relation to the development, implementation, dating and sourcing of written policies and procedures in the following areas:

Principle	Policy and Procedure
1.5	Inclusion and reducing bias
5.1	Child protection
5.3	Use and storage of dangerous products
5.4	Maintenance of safe buildings and equipment
5.5	Occupational health and safety
6.1	Food and nutrition
6.2	Food safety and hygiene practices
6.3	Dental care
6.4	Toileting and nappy changing
6.5	Rest and sleep, clothing and sun protection
6.6	Immunisation and infectious diseases

- Failure to date and source written policies and procedures contributed significantly to a high proportion of centres receiving Unsatisfactory ratings across Quality Areas 5: Protective Care and Safety, and 6: Health, Nutrition and Wellbeing.

NCAC Support for Services

The purpose of this Quality Trends Report is to identify key areas within the QIAS that long day care centres are performing well in and those which contribute to centres receiving a Not Accredited status.

NCAC aims to work in partnership with long day care centres to facilitate and support continuous improvement to the quality of child care provided for children in Australia. The Quality Trends Report assists NCAC to provide targeted support to centres as they progress through the QIAS.

NCAC has implemented several initiatives, addressing concerns raised in the Quality Trends Reports as follows:

- The NCAC Policy Development Guide was introduced in October 2006, to assist services to research, develop and review policies in collaboration with stakeholders. The NCAC Policy Development Guide is available on the NCAC website (www.ncac.gov.au).
- NCAC's newsletter, Putting Children First, is distributed quarterly to all services participating in the Child Care Quality Assurance systems. Recent articles supporting quality practices include:
 - Special Feature: Developing and Reviewing Policies (December 2007)
 - Protecting Children: Strategies for Creating Safe Environments (March 2007)
 - Professional Development (June 2007)
 - Typical Practice in Child Care Services (June 2007)
 - CCQA Without Folders (June 2007)
- Factsheets are distributed to all long day care centres registered to participate in the QIAS to provide information to child care professionals regarding quality practices. New Factsheets for long day care centres were developed and distributed in early 2007 as follows:

Factsheets
Physical Environments for School Age Children in Long Day Care
Caring for School Age Children in Long Day Care
Interactions with School Age Children in Long Day Care
Programs for Under Twos
Writing a Continuing Improvement Plan

NCAC will continue to use the information provided in the Quality Trends Reports to develop ways to effectively support long day care centres participating in the QIAS.
